

Assistant Professor in Strategy
TSM – Toulouse School of Management

Toulouse School of Management (ex-IAE Toulouse), University of Toulouse Capitole, invites applications from candidates of international research standing for a one-year position (Assistant Professor) within its Strategy Department (<https://tsm-education.fr/>) for the next academic year (September 2019 to August 2020).

Toulouse School of Management, University of Toulouse Capitole, offers degrees in management at the undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral level for both full time higher education and executive education students. Thanks to its research center (TSM-Research), which is accredited by the CNRS (National Centre for Scientific Research) as one of the leading management research centres in France and its affiliated Doctoral School of Management, TSM is able to provide excellent research conditions. TSM has a global perspective and fosters international exchanges through both the achievement of excellence in research and the provision of educational opportunities with an international focus.

Profile. We are seeking a colleague who has strong research interests in the theory development and practice of strategic management. Depending on the level of the position, the new professor will be expected to contribute to our master's and PhD programs and conduct research in the area of his/her interest. The candidate should either have an international publication record or demonstrate an outstanding publication potential. Knowledge of French is preferred.

Teaching load. A full professorship corresponds to a total of 128 teaching hours a year.

Application. Applications should be submitted to the Head of the Strategy Department, Stéphan Pezé, by e-mail (stephan.peze@tsm-education.fr) including the following documents:

- Cover letter
- A detailed Curriculum Vitae incl. a list of publications
- A copy of a representative publication (job market paper)
- The name and contact details of three referees

Deadline. Applications received by June 15, 2019 will be given priority.
